Perfection - Nitpicking every part!

Carefully - Designed Drawn Produced

The end product is just the tip of the ice berg of the work that have to be put in, to create a world class product.

The initial idea come from a dentist, that is unsatisfied with the products that is currently available on the market.

Then starts a trial and error process of creating a product with only one focus, to be better at the products main task than any other.

After that comes the perfection phase to make an everlasting, comfortable, affordable, beautiful product, before starting to prepare for production.
